Looking backward— what an incredible treat to be a part of Rose Hill's August WWII weekend. Living historians representing 10 different units brought everything from jeeps, an English Bobby, a WW II communications station, an airplane mock up that begged youngsters to gear up with their parachute and jump, Austrian mountain soldier gear, German Home front artifacts, and even a hand-dug foxhole just begging for young visitors to "jump in." Also making the days extra special was the play "War on the Home front", the WWIIunes who traveled from the Eastern Shore (one with an over 2 hour bridge delay) to bring 40's USO style music, and the veterans who shared time and stories—esp. Charles Bare. Special thanks to Paul Smith who flew over in his 1944 Piper L-4H . And the Francis Scott Key Antique Car Club's wonderful exhibit of over 125 cars! Thanks to all their owners!

The new  has 5 very eager, active young participants . If your child ages 3—6 would like to join the fun, there is still room and still time to enroll. Visit www.recreator.com

HEAR YE,

HEAR YE,

If you are 10—18 and interested in history and want hands-on educational opportunities to learn how museums work, be able to interpret and help with exhibits, then Rose Hill's Junior Historians Program might be just for you. There are no set scheduled meetings yet —hopefully once a month. Contact mkoenig@frederickcountyMD.gov for more information.
